

cgl Achieving Change through employment

Case study 1

F came from Bangladesh with her husband. She has settled in Wales and was raising three children but in the UK had always been Economically Inactive as a housewife and did not have the confidence to look for work.

F identified that she would like to work with children, as being a mother this was an area where she already felt she had experience and a strong skill set.

Our Case Officers developed a CV with F which she sent out to local schools to see if she could get a volunteering placement as a Teaching Assistant so that she could start to gain some experience.

She received an invitation to come and meet with one of the schools the day after they received her CV and is completing her volunteering placement now.

For further information on F's case and to see more of our work please see <https://vimeo.com/214691115>. A copy of the video file is available from us at CGL ACE if you would like to help us publicise our work.

Case study 2

R is from Bangladesh. Our Case Officer completed the CGL ACE assessment paperwork with her and found that R's focus should be on Skills and Training.

R's Case Officer then researched an Office Skills course from the CGL ACE Approved Providers Lists that would supply her with the skills she would need in an administration post and suggested the opportunity to R. R completed her course successfully.

R was then supported to apply for several jobs and secured a 6 month DVLA paid work placement which will be starting next quarter. Her Case Officer supported her with completing a form for a DBS check. She has also independently booked on to start an additional IT course run by her local college now that she feels she better understands which skills are likely to be required of her in a work setting.
